JA 1 – Mary Tsukamoto Collection

Mary Dakuzaku Tsukamoto was born on January 17, 1915 in San Francisco. Mary and her family were sent to the Fresno Assembly Center and then to Jerome, Arkansas during World War II. After the war she became a teacher and taught about the internment of Japanese Americans during the war. She retired in 1976 and then became involved in the redress movement, 1970s-1988. Mary died on January 6, 1998.

The Mary Tsukamoto collection includes educational materials prepared by Mary about the Japanese internment camps and the Japanese American community, biographical items, pages from her father's scrapbook, publications, photographs, artifacts, oversize items, and flat file items. Topics included in this collection are: Florin, California, Elk Grove, California, Tule Lake, JACL, baseball, redress, and various artifacts from pre-WWII and through the interment period. 1895-1996.

Series 1. Print Materials

Subseries 1. Educational print materials

From an email excerpt 11/22/15: "I forwarded the link to George's nephew, Tim Shironaka, and he said he remembers his mother (George's sister) talking about the vest. She said she remembers mother (George's mother) going to many friends and 442nd families in their camp, asking them to add a stitch to the fabric so she could make the vest for Geo. before he left for Europe. They were in the camp in CO when she was working on the vest. I hadn't heard that story before; thought you might find it interesting. I remember being asked by mothers in camps I was in, to add a stitch and I was just a kid and didn't really know the significance of it. Carol"
